

Burning Light Arts : Stalmine School Mosaic

2.5m x 1.5m large mosaic for the new reading area, reflecting the history and future of the area and school. Mosaic design, demonstration and making workshops, each pupil contributed to the final design and produced a section of the boarder each.

Initial research of changes to the area throughout history are taken and discussed with all pupils, design idea workshops and mosaic demonstration followed.

All pupils contributed input to the final design.

Making sessions included even the youngest, each using a template to produce a section of the final border.

Burning Light Arts : Stalmine School Mosaic

Main sections created in the studio, in sections ready for delivery and tiling to wall.

The final install took place over Easter ready for the pupils return.
